

MULTI - DIMENSIONAL THINKING TEST

First Name:

Surname:

Nickname:

Cell No:

Tel No:

email:

Describe Your Passion >>>

at the center of the graphic is your passion.

NB!! All answers must be in English. (excepting where they refer all answers must be in English, excepting words that directly refer to terms related to your passion.)

Enter your Passion here

Examination Date:

Examination Group:

Examination Number:

Information Value Chain

Business Info. based on time & purpose

Info Management Disciplines

Area of Breakdown to be resolved.

Long term Historical	Medium term Analysis and Intelligence	Required for Reuse	Critical to Act	Required to be Prepared	Medium term Planning / Preparation	Long term Planning / Preparation
Waste & Recycle	Store Up & Reference	Keep Relevant and Useful	True Current Reality	Insights and Patterns	Preparation, Prediction and Position	Vision, Innovation, Opportunity and Risk
A	B	C	D	E	F	G

Information Value Chain

1

Blue Sky
Research
Strategy
Forecasting
Tactical
Information
Process
Fulfilment
Procedures
Alignment
Resources
Operation
Apps & Systems
Development
Portfolio
Integration
Research
Proof of Concept

2

Rules Control and Consequences

Decisions and Accountability

Co-ordinate and Do it

Understanding and Purpose

Things to use to make it simpler and better

3

Design and Architecture

4

Security

5

Quality

NOW

Past ← → Future

6

Common Language

7

Common Understanding

8

Removing Ambiguity and Confusion

9

Understanding Development

10

Concept Development

11

Operations and Delivery

12

Reference Information

13

Contextual Information

14

Seldom Changing Information

15

Specifically Useful Information

16

Design and Storage of Useful Information and Trends for Quick Retrieval

17

Librarianship of all Information

H	J	K	L	M	N	O
Life Cycle Stage 3	Life Cycle Stage 2	Life Cycle Stage 1	Life Cycle Stage 0	Life Cycle Stage - 1	Life Cycle Stage - 2	Life Cycle Stage - 3

Examination Instructions:

30 Minutes BEFORE exam starts

- Consider the things you love doing and choose one. You need to have some experience doing this thing that you are passionate about.
- Read the Definitions page, and refer back to it if you think you have forgotten what this examination means by that word.
- Very briefly describe what you are passionate about in the open space provided at the top of this page.
- Complete Your personal details (top left of this page)

4. Take note of the following.

- The Yellow dot represents what you are passionate about.
- It is located on the time line as at this moment. (Today's date)
- The time line separates your passion into future and past.
- At the top are some key words to understand what the letters in black mean. You will need to remember these when answering.
- The "IV_?" letters to the right will be used by you to answer each of the questions relating to your Passion. (Refer to the Definitions to know what each word means in our vocabulary.)
- The areas marked in ovals numbered 2 through 17 are different dimensions that relate to your passion. (It is not possible to answer each dimension, so you need to choose the top three that are important to you, and answer in order of importance to you (most to least).
- Do not return to change an answer, you will confuse yourself.
- Constantly keep all that you are writing in mind and keep it as one discussion relating to the various dimensions of your passion.

- The Lifecycle (below left) refers to the lifecycle of your passion, where you are now some time inbetween when you started this passion, and when it will eventually die (this may be when you leave planet earth behind, or you may want it to continue beyond your last moments here.) ... You get to decide.

- Fill in the 7 (seven) open spaces with words that describe these phases of your passion. Use your own words.

- All answers must be in English, excepting where they refer to specific words that cannot be translated into English as they directly refer to terms related to your passion.